Growing Your Security Business

WEBs-AX Security Resource

The Flexibility You Need. The Support You Want.

Welcome to Honeywell WEBs-AX™ Security. As a WEBs-AX Security contractor, you gain many benefits and receive support from your local Authorized Systems Distributor and Honeywell. And, whether you need single site or enterprise access control, building automation or a combination of it all, Honeywell WEBs-AX Security lets you choose exactly what's needed for the installation.

Face-to-Face Support

- Authorized Systems Distributors (ASD) — Your trained, knowledgeable Honeywell ASD can answer your product questions and offer systems advice.
- Access To Honeywell Security Specialists — As a WEBs-AX Security contractor, you have access to a Honeywell Security Sales & Technical Specialist for assistance with sales, technical questions and more. Contact your ASD for more information.

Part of The WEBs-AX Family

A family of state-of-the-art, Web-enabled building automation solutions, Honeywell WEBs-AX offers an affordable, integrated open communications building control system. It's the ideal choice for integrating HVAC systems, energy management solutions, third-party devices, security, video and more. Plus, the open integrated system, based on the Niagara<sup>AX</sup> Framework® gives you the versatility to use LonWorks™, BACnet®, Modbus and OPC-based products for your building needs.

Expand Your WEBs-AX Security Knowledge at the Buildings Forum

The Buildings Forum — found at buildingsforum.honeywell.com — is an idea-sharing portal that Honeywell contractors can use to find or share information on Honeywell products and solutions. If you're just getting started with WEBs-AX Security, it's a great place to review information and documentation from Honeywell product experts and experienced contractors.

Contractor PRO™ Provides Privileges

Your Contractor PRO™ number is just that — yours. It's an exclusive number that you should know and have access to when working with Honeywell. Your Contractor PRO number is your direct link to Honeywell. It's the number that lets you access restricted content on Honeywell websites, such as eLearning training modules, submittal literature and other areas of customer.honeywell.com. And, of course, it's the number you'll need in order to redeem your Contractor PRO points for products, training, merchandise and more.
